Professional Tennis Registry is the largest global organization of tennis-teaching professionals with more than 14,000 members in 117 countries. They are dedicated to educating, certifying, and servicing tennis teachers and coaches around the world in order to grow the game of tennis. They are based in Hilton Head, South Carolina.

This book covers some basic drills for the very young to competitive juniors to adult players. Each drill is kind of simple and straightforward. I was hoping for more in-depth explanation. This is more for starting professionals who teach tennis to make a living as a quick reference.

Excellent drills, great information, and easy to apply with students. I highly recommend this book to coaches who are looking to help their students in all types of situations from young to older more advanced students.

OK needed more advanced drills to many for little kids other than that it was a little helpful I would recommend it to a beginner teacher

Great learning tool

I understand that every time tennis in this country hit a low, many in the world of tennis panic. I guess with this latest offering from the USPTR hit the panic button as well.
