Atlanta Scenes: Photojournalism In The Atlanta History Center Collection (GA) (Images Of America)

Synopsis

Atlanta, the thriving capital of the New South, has a rich and fascinating history. In Atlanta Scenes, authors Kimberly S. Blass and Michael Rose draw from the works of some of the city's earliest and finest photojournalists—Francis Price, Marion Johnson, Bill Wilson, and Kenneth Rogers—to bring that history to life. Atlanta Scenes documents some of the city's noteworthy events, personalities, and landmarks, many of which will be readily identifiable. The images range from the everyday (baseball games at Ponce de Leon Ballpark, boys on bicycles, and Humane Society dog rescues) to the eventful (the Gone with the Wind premiere, the deadly Winecoff Hotel fire, and the infamous Leo Frank trial). Many scenes reflect the iconography of the Old South, while others provide insight into the harsh realities of twentieth-century life. In this volume, well-crafted, artistic images blend with on-the-spot action shots.

Customer Reviews

Spanning a 60-year period from the turn of the century, the photographs presented here are the images captured on film by Atlanta's photo-journalists, covering stories that touched Atlanta life. Whether one is a newcomer to the area or a longtime resident, Atlanta Scenes has something for everyone.

I have over 50 books ordered from Arcadia and for the most part have been pleased with most of them. This purchase featuring Atlanta Scenes did not disappoint. If you want indepth information, go elsewhere. But if you want interesting information with photos, you can't beat these books.

Exactly what I was looking for- great pictures of down town-Lowes Grand, Paramount, and the Rich's Christmas Tree. The trolley car photos bring back memories of the 40's and 50's.

Great trip down Memory Lane -

The images captured here place you in the moment that they were taken long ago. This can be especially rewarding if you know the location as they look today.

The Atlanta History Center's 'Atlanta Scenes' is a superb pictorial panorama of Atlanta, from the ordinary scene of a family waiting for the arrival of their son after the Korean War to the sparkling smile of Clark Gable. The grandeur and hospitality of the Deep South are captured alongside the brutality of Jim Crow and segregation. See Dr. Martin Luther King, Governor Eugene Talmadge and other public figures who shaped the South and the country. Witness Atlanta's transformation from small Southern city to a leading capital of the New South. All the photographs in this volume were taken by award-winning photojournalists.
